CONSENTED MOTION TO EXTEND TESTIMONY PERIODS

Petitioner Hachette Filipacchi Presse ("Petitioner") and Respondent Elle Belle LLC ("Respondent") stipulate that all outstanding responses and documents to the parties' previously issued discovery requests be served by each party on or before October 15, 2005 and hereby consent and jointly move that the trial periods in this matter be extended by 60 days as follows:

	Current Date Pursuant to Parties June 9, 2005 Motion on Consent	Extended Date Consented to by Parties
30-day testimony period for party in position of plaintiff to close	November 12, 2005	January 11, 2006
30-day testimony period for party in position of defendant to close	January 11, 2005	March 12, 2006
15 –day rebuttal testimony to close	February 25, 2006	April 26, 2006

The reason for this request is to provide each party with additional time to respond to the other party's outstanding discovery requests and to attempt to avoid motions to compel this information. Consequently, the parties request that their respective testimony periods be extended to allow them sufficient time to evaluate the other side's remaining discovery responses and to prepare for trial. This motion is not being made for purposes of delay.

The parties agreed to jointly move to extend testimony periods as set forth above in emails between Hui Ri Kim and Kristin Whiting on September 29, 2005.

Respectfully submitted,

HUGHES HUBBARD & REED LLP
